SUBJECT: SRA 23J Report

Progress on Year Plan

- Further acted on one of our most significant year plan items by promoting students' environmental wellness through the creation of our podcast episode about this topic
 - o We were able to grant honorariums to two students from our faculty – our podcaster producer and our graphic designer who we recruited via our Instagram
 - o The podcast features a very special guest and McMaster alum – Shania from Stop Sprawl Students who works to mobilize student voices to demand change from our governments and aims to encourage students to prioritize their own wellness on an individual level

Upcoming Events, Projects, & Activities

- The podcast will be released shortly and we are very excited for everyone to listen to it
 - Special thanks to our talented producer and designer for their creative ideas and their inspirational representation of our faculty through their work and talent

Outreach & Promotions

- Currently working to solidify our outreach hours, which we will post on our Instagram

Current Challenges

- Our former caucus leader Paige unfortunately had to leave her role on our caucus as she pursues an amazing opportunity to spend this semester abroad, but we are so happy for her and continue to collaborate with her as we wrap up our podcast!
- We are now short a caucus member and are looking forward to the next by-election
